

Get your kids travel savvy

Schools across the Southeastern rail network are reopening in September, and we know your kids may not have been on a train for a while.

Things will look a bit different, so here's a simple checklist for schoolchildren to get travel savvy before they hop on a train and head back to the classroom:

Our Safer Travel Pledge means everyone can travel with confidence. We're boosting cleaning, running more trains, and providing extra help and information for passengers.

#TravelWithConfidence

Follow these steps:

1. Timetables

Check your train times in advance. The timetable will change on Monday 7 September, so plan ahead.

3. Face coverings

Face coverings must be worn on trains and in stations, unless you're exempt or under 11 years old. If your child forgets theirs, our station staff will provide a disposable face mask for that journey.

5. Extra staff

There will be extra staff at the busiest Southeastern stations for when the schools go back.

7. One-way systems

Some stations will look different – with one-way systems and extra queuing arrangements.

2. Tickets

Get your child season ticket up to 7 days in advance. An annual season will cost less than buying separate tickets for each term.

4. Social distancing

Stay 1 metre or more away from each other – including school friends and other passengers.

6. Be considerate

Remember that other passengers may be anxious about travelling, so please behave in a calm and respectful manner.

8. Clean hands

Everyone should remember to wash their hands and carry hand sanitiser. Our trains and stations have soap and water, with hand sanitiser dispensers at some stations too.
